Kirstie Lynn is a singer-songwriter originally from the fingerlakes region of upstate, NY. She began her professional music studies at the age of 15, and has since received both a Bachelor's degree from Shenandoah University and a Master's degree from Carnegie Mellon University in voice and opera performance. Her vocal training lends her the freedom to paint her nature inspired lyrics with a wide range and a beautiful and effortless sound.

From cafés in Copenhagen to bars in Brooklyn, Galen Clark has performed his music in venues all around the world. Originally born in Riverside, California, Galen has been on the move since 1995, drawing inspiration from the stories of people and places strewn about America's urban sprawl to its most remote rural mountain towns. Following a degree at Shenandoah Conservatory where he originally met Kirstie Lynn, Galen has developed an authenticity for fingerstyle guitar playing, unconventional songwriting, and nomadic storytelling through song.

The two present a nostalgic and warm sound, blending elements of folk and progressive americana all within an independent framework. Listeners tuning in from around the world can universally resonate with the intimate nature of the duo's performances as well as the vulnerability and emotion nestled in the songs.
